

Children from 5 of age cannot always explain and understand what is going through them during their very rich day. When they leave their regular morning education framework they still lives with mixed feelings and situations that required to be ravelled ou. Riki and the team is attentive and close to every child so they are able to feel those little ripples that hide a more complex situation. At the Tsaharoniki we educate, communicate and help to find answers. We maintain constant contact with parents and create conditions to discussions, feedback and eventually detect unusual emotional state.
